

Thailand-Japan Business Gateway

A continuous market access platform for Thai companies in Japan.

Thai Companies

Japanese Buyers

Market Communication

Business Follow-up

Thailand has excellent companies. Japan has potential partners.

What is needed is a continuous bridge between them.

Thailand

Many high-quality products, services, technologies, and companies are still not sufficiently known in Japan.

Japan

Japanese companies continue to seek new overseas products, services, technologies, and business partners.

この構想の出発点は、両者が継続的に出会い、情報を届け、関係を育てる仕組みをつくることです。

Entering the Japanese market is not only about introduction.

The real challenge is staying visible, understandable, and connected after the first meeting.

1

Visibility

Low recognition in Japan and limited Japanese-language communication.

2

Market Fit

Understanding Japanese business customs, buyer expectations, and category context.

3

Continuity

Maintaining follow-up after exhibitions, introductions, and initial business meetings.

A one-time introduction and continuous market presence are different things.

「一度紹介すること」と「市場に継続的に存在すること」は違う。

The platform should help Thai companies remain present in the Japanese market through repeated communication and practical follow-up.

Build a Thai Business Showcase on the Top Notch website.

A bilingual platform that continuously introduces Thai companies, products, services, and technologies to the Japanese market.

INTRODUCE

Present Thai companies in a market-ready format.

COMMUNICATE

Share information in Japanese and English.

CONNECT

Create touchpoints with buyers and partners.

FOLLOW UP

Support communication after initial contact.

IMPROVE

Use feedback to refine the platform.

Working name: Thailand Business Gateway / Thai Business Showcase

A practical route from Thai companies to Japanese market opportunities.

We help Thai companies communicate with the Japanese market.

Market Communication

- Company and product introduction for Japan
- Japanese and English information development
- Market research and positioning support

Business Connection

- Search for Japanese companies and buyer candidates
- Create business meeting opportunities
- Support meetings, communication, and follow-up

We do not simply introduce Thai companies. We help them communicate with the Japanese market.

This is not a replacement for the Office of Commercial Affairs or DITP.

It is designed as a private-market complement that supports continuous communication and follow-up in Japan.

Begin with a pilot project, then improve and expand.

Rather than building a large platform from day one, we propose testing the concept with a small number of Thai companies.

STEP 1

DITP introduces several companies interested in Japan.

STEP 2

Top Notch creates Japan-facing showcase pages.

STEP 3

Share information with Japanese buyers and partners.

STEP 4

Review reactions, outcomes, and challenges.

STEP 5

Improve the model and consider expansion.

What we would like to discuss first.

1

Usefulness

Would this kind of continuous bridge be useful for Thai companies entering Japan?

2

Pilot Scope

What type and number of companies would be appropriate for a first pilot?

3

Information Design

What information should each Thai company page include for Japanese buyers?

4

Follow-up Model

How should Top Notch and the commercial office coordinate after interest is generated?

This is a discussion draft, not a completed business scheme.

We would first like to hear whether this type of platform could support Thai companies entering the Japanese market.

If the concept is useful, we would be grateful to explore a small pilot project together.

CLOSING MESSAGE

From Introduction to Connection. From Connection to Business.

Building a continuous bridge between Thailand and Japan.

Thailand has excellent companies. Japan has potential partners. Top Notch can help connect them through continuous market communication.
